Expert Advice for Moving Targets

Schellenberg Wittmer's Trade and Transport Group features experienced specialists proficient at delivering comprehensive services to the market players and industries involved in international commerce, trade, trade finance and transportation.

First-rate advice and skilled representation on a wide array of international disputes and transactions are what clients demand of us. They are served by a specialized team with in-depth market knowledge, one that can call on an outstanding network of maritime and aviation law firms and experts worldwide. We understand the relationship between, and the interdependence of, all aspects of trade and transportation, including sales contracts, import/export contracts, trade finance, marine/cargo insurance, maritime, aviation and land transportation, and ship and aircraft finance.

You will find our Trade and Transport Group ranked first tier by Legal 500 and Chambers. These same publications single out Alexander von Ziegler for recommendation.

Experience & Expertise

We have acted as counsel and arbitrator in disputes involving parties around the world and have advised clients about many different commercial activities. They include:

- > transportation contracts and documentation (marine; aviation; road; rail; multimodal; NVOCC; volume contracts; charter agreements; freight forwarding);
- > claims and claims defense related to transportation arrangements (cargo liability litigation);
- > trade fraud litigation;
- > casualty litigation;
- > Air Traffic Control;
- > sales and purchase agreements/commodity sales/distribution agreements;
- > INCOTERMS;
- > supply chain management / establishment of worldwide structures of distribution logistics;
- > trade finance/letters of credit/UCP 600;
- > marine and aviation insurance (cargo/hull/liability/P & I);
- > ship and aircraft finance/sale and purchase/registration/mortgages;
- > regulatory aspects of marine and aviation activities from Switzerland.

Members of our Trade and Transport team possess detailed market knowledge gained through close dealings with the industries involved in international trade and transportation. They also have impressive academic credentials in the fields of aviation and maritime law; through institutionalized arrangements many of them teach regularly at universities (both Swiss and foreign) and in industry training programs. This blend of technical expertise and practical know-how enables us to offer advice on and support in litigation for markets and legal frameworks where international trade and transportation operate.
