Connecting Clients to High End Legal Advice

Schellenberg Wittmer's Telecommunication industry group unites all legal expertise relevant for the telecom sector. Our specialists from the areas of information technology, regulatory, competition and contract law and M&A provide the full scope of legal services and advice required for the telecom industry.

As examples, our industry group supports telecom service providers in applying for the necessary registrations, assesses compliance with applicable regulatory requirements, and determines the scope of applicability and the prerequisites of the legislation on lawful intercept.

Expertise

- > Filing of notifications, registrations and submissions for licenses for telecom service providers;
- > Drafting and negotiating of contracts relevant for the telecom industry (e.g. roaming agreements, service agreements);
- > Review of telecom related contracts from a competition law perspective;
- > Merger control proceedings in the telecom industry;
- > Legal advice on all aspects of lawful intercept legislation (e.g. scope of application, specific requirements);
- > Support in M&A transactions in the telecom industry.
